REAR BARS SPECIAL NOTE: -
EFS 4x4 Accessories has not tested a Weight / Load Distribution Hitch in conjunction with our tow bar and therefore are unable to recommend or endorse the use of such a device with our Adventure Series rear bars.

We understand that the fitment of such a device may be desired and is at the discretion of the user.

It's widely recommended that when Weight / Load Distribution Hitches are installed, that they are to be used on highway style roads only, as a dynamic supplementary support to a correctly loaded vehicle / trailer combination.
When negotiating the following conditions, the Weight / Load Distribution Hitch should be disconnected:

- Uneven or off-road terrain

- Access ramps
- Speed humps or dips
- Performing tight turns at slow speeds
- Travelling on severe undulating road surfaces
- Steep abrupt inclines or declines
- When driving or reversing into and out of driveways

All warranty claims which involve a Weight / Load Distribution Hitch will be investigated on a case by case basis. If your vehicle suffers a failure or issue that is determined to be a direct result of the fitments of a Weight / Load Distribution Hitch, your warranty claim for repairs may be denied.
